On day 2 we will be going (walking!) to a nearby Street Food Market. Dinner on day 2 is out of your own pocket.

PUBLIC TRANSPORT

Copenhagen is very well connected by public transport with various options of busses, trains and metro. You can plan your trip on www.google.dk/maps or www.rejseplanen.dk.

You can buy your tickets through the DOT Tickets app, or by using ticket machines at train and metro stations, and at the airport. On busses, you also use your digital ticket (preferably) or you pay in cash with Danish Crowns.

ΤΑΧΙ

- TAXA 4x35, phone number +45 35 35 35 35
- Dantaxi, phone number +45 48 48 48 48

There are no fixed rates in Denmark for taxi services, and taxi companies are free to establish their own rates for various destinations and routes. Uber and similar companies do not operate in Denmark.

REIMBURSEMENT AND DAILY SUBSISTENCE ALLOWANCE

After the meeting you will be entitled to receive a daily subsistence allowance (per diem) for each meeting day you have been participating in; you are also eligible to claim expenses accordance to EU rules.

For this reason, we will ask you to sign an attendance sheet each day. You will then later receive a confirmation-letter for your economic department to verify your presence at this workshop. To ease workload and save on amount of printed paper we will prepare a joint attendance sheet. Let us know, if you need a personal one.
